

Aaron Killian

Aaron Killian is the Founder & Co-Owner of Historic America - a sightseeing company headquartered in Washington, DC that specializes in national heritage sites alongside the history of American government & civics. Over the past decade, Aaron has worked as a public historian and tour guide, leading thousands of school children (from all over the country) on explorations of the White House, the United States Capitol, the Supreme Court, the National Archives and countless other institutions. Aaron's company has recently launched a new podcast & video stories which are similarly focused on sharing the story of the United States with its citizens and he is very excited to be speaking with the students of Rhoades!

Josh Kutner

Josh Kutner is a senior at The George Washington University and a professional history nerd with Historic America. As a political science major, Josh has a special love for the history of American politics and the American presidency. Josh also serves as the Chairman of the GW College Republicans, the largest College Republicans chapter in the nation, as has interned in offices within the U.S. House of Representatives, U.S. Senate, Republican National Committee headquarters, and U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, having worked on local, congressional, and statewide campaigns in his home state of New Jersey, Josh is incredibly excited to discuss the state of American politics and our system of government with students!

Alyssa Kurke

Alyssa Kurke is a 1L at the George Washington Law School. She completed her undergraduate studies at American University in Washington D.C., where she earned her B.A. in Law and Political Science. At AU she was also an award-winning member of the school's highly ranked mock trial team. She has worked in both European Parliament in Brussels, Belgium and the United States House of Representatives as a Policy Assistant. Having assisted legislators on both sides of the Atlantic, she has experience in comparative government and politics (the study of comparing foreign government systems to our own) and is looking forward to sharing her knowledge today!
